- Randolph, Shiraz, Papal and Vishal came together in 1994, with a strong need to play individual, original, unique music.

- Their first album (We Are Not Listening) in 1996 was listed by Rhythm House (India's premier record store) as the fastest selling rock album. In 2002, Up was released and published by their self-owned music label, 'Pentagrammusic'. It went on to become one of India's highest selling rock albums with more than 15,000 copies sold. Pentagram's 3rd album "It's OK, It's All Good" released by Counter Culture Records in March 2007 spent 6 weeks on Planet M's national sales charts peaking at # 3, a first for any Indian rock band.

- Pentagram were the first Indian act to play at the Glastonbury Music Festival in 2005. They have also headlined the Sundance Music Festival in Estonia in 2003.

- The band has shot 3 videos for the album, namely Lovedrug Climbdown (animated and edited by Sameer Kulavoor), Tomorrow's Decided (Directed by Ravi Jadhav) and Nocturne (Directed by Shiraz Bhattacharya).

"To make an album as ballsy as Bloodywood, you need plenty of experience on your side, and these guys have it in spades – from Vishal's alter-ego as a Bollywood producer to Correia's Shaa'ir + Func. They've played Glastonbury, supported The Prodigy, and never fail to land a heavy punch on stage."
