

• VOCTRONICA •

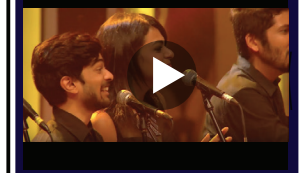

- Voctronica is India's first all-vocal ensemble. The band was set up by world-renowned beat boxer, Shlomo (UK), along with MC Testament (UK), Sony Music India and British Council India.
- A melodious blend of beat-boxers, Indian Classical, Pop, Blues and Rock vocalists, Voctronica collectively bring to you the real power of the human voice.
- The band has developed a sound and style that is entirely unique and undeniably infectious. Their musical sensibilities put forth one-of-a-kind interpretations of tracks across multiple genres and languages
- Over the years they have gained popularity for the visual treat they provide producing music without any instruments.

"They can manage to hold attention and even have their audience do a little jig without any drum kits, electric guitars or amplifiers. All they need is their vocal chords and an audience that appreciates a new art form."

- The Hindu
